OUR Campaign Sheet.

EDITION EXHAUSTED.

UNPARALLELED DEMAND FROM THE PEOPLE!

Notwithstanding the edition of our Campaign Sheet No. 1 was thought to be large, the demand for it has been four-fold what we expected; so that the entire Edition was exhausted nearly as soon as the Press had ceased printing.

We shall, however, put Campaign Sheet No. 2 to press as soon as possible, and without fail issue it SATURDAY, September 26.

It will contain a great variety of matter, including a full Report of the Demonstration in Pittsburgh on the evening of the 22d, and the Great Mass Meeting on the 24th. It will contain a Speech by Senator Morton, of Ind.; by Senator Drake, of Missouri; and Speeches by other eminent Statesmen, including, it is expected, the Hon. E. M. STANTON. Also, Songs, and much other matter adapted to the Campaign.

Orders for No. 1, received after the edition was exhausted, unless otherwise directed, will be filled by No. 2.

We have to ask that Committees and others send in their orders as early as possible, so that we may form some idea what edition to print.

Price $2 a hundred copies.

War Feeling Subsiding.

LONDON, September 20.—The apprehensions of war have partially subsided during the past week. The efforts of the Parisian press to extract a warlike significance from the speech of the King of Prussia at Kiel have proved a failure. It is evident that peace is sincerely desired by the government and people of Europe with the sole exception of the Emperor of the French, whose purpose is unknown and perhaps undetermined. A growing indignation is manifesting itself at his ambiguity or indecision.

POLITICAL.

Private advices from Oregon speak encouragingly of the prospect of carrying the State for Grant and Colfax.

The next state election takes place in Nebraska on the first Tuesday of October. The contest will be for one Congressman, Governor, State officers and Legislature. The Republicans elected their Governor in June, 1866, by 145 majority. In October following they elected Marquette to Congress by a majority of 745, over T. S. Martin. The contest in October will be a sharp one, but the Republican ticket will pretty surely succeed, as Grant certainly will in November.

Albert Pike addressed the St. Louis Democrats on Wednesday night, taking strong States Right ground, and asserting that the rebels in the war fought for the true Union, the only correct theory of our country.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the New York Tribune predicts that the Republican State ticket in Pennsylvania will be elected in October by at least Geary's majority in 1866, 17,000; and that it is likely to go to 20,000 or 25,000. Philadelphia is promised to give from 3,000 to 5,000 Republican majority.

HORATIO ON THE MAINE ELECTION.

"I am fading, Andy, fading
[illegible]

[illegible]

At the present election General Grant is the representative of the "Peace Party," which is patriotic and honorable. At the last Presidential election, while the war was raging, Gen. McClellan was the candidate of the "Peace Party," which was unpatriotic and disgraceful. Grant pursues peace when it is a national necessity. General McClellan pursued it when it would have been national ruin.

The New York Herald says that in that city alone "the Republican vote will be fully doubled, and everywhere there are unmistakable indications that on the question of loyalty, on the question of policy, on the question of morality, and on the question of whisky and lager beer, the State of New York will go back to her old position and cast a heavy majority against the copperhead Democracy."

The Hon. Joseph M. Blake, one of the leading Democrats of Rhode Island, and who in 1864 supported McClellan, is out for Grant. He says: "Impressed with the conviction that no one ever elected President, from the foundation of the government to this time, whose election was so important to the country as Grant's election now is, I am willing to do anything in my power in aid of his election."

STATE POLITICS.

FAYETTE COUNTY.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

BROWNSVILLE, September 7, 1868.

The COMMERCIAL being extensively read in this place, a few lines for its columns may not be amiss. As you are perhaps aware that it is about "nip and tuck" between the two political parties in Brownsville, and the contest as to which shall "carry the day" is almost as absorbing as the State and National battles to the support of Grant and Seymour. Party lines are clearly drawn, there are few "shaky" or doubtful men among us, [illegible] Look out for a steamboat load of Tanner boys at your grand mass Convention. A boat has been chartered for that purpose, so keep a place for us in the line of the great Union procession. C.

Governor Walter Harriman, of New Hampshire, is addressing Republican meetings in the interior of the State. He was serenaded at Scranton on Monday evening, and made a patriotic speech in reply.

Ex-Governors Curtin, of Pennsylvania, and Tod, of Ohio, will speak at the New Castle Republican Convention to-morrow.

It is said that the Free Traders have appropriated twenty thousand dollars to attempt to defeat Hon. D. J. Morrell in the Seventeenth Congressional District.

The Democrats of Tioga county have made the following nominations: For Assembly, Charles Ryan; District Attorney, Walter Sherwood; Commissioner, H. Stowell, Sr.; Coroner, Dr. Hathaway; Surveyor, David Heise.

R. Stockett Matthews, the eloquent Maryland Republican, will take the stump in this State this week, commencing at York on Wednesday.

The Bedford Press, an independent paper published at Bloody Run, Bedford county, has run up the names of Grant and Colfax at its editorial head.

The Republican contest in the Tioga and Potter Assembly District has been settled by the nomination of B. B. Strang and T. B. Niles, the latter in place of John S. Mann.

The Republican conferees of the Senatorial district composed of Bradford, Susquehanna and Wyoming Counties have nominated P. M. Osterhout, of Wyoming, to succeed Mr. Landon. Mr. Osterhout formerly represented his county in the lower branch of the Legislature, and during his term was an active and laborious representative.

W. F. Sadler, Esq., has been unanimously nominated as the Republican candidate for State Senator in the Eighteenth District, composed of Cumberland and York counties.

The soldiers and sailors of Butler county will hold a convention at Butler on Friday, which promises to be an imposing affair.

John Brooks, Esq., of Cameron, is the Republican nominee for Representative from Cameron, Clinton and McKean.

The Democrats of Bradford county have gone through the yearly farce of nominating a county ticket, as follows: For Assembly, A. W. Guernsey; Associate Judge, Elmer Horton; Commissioner, Job Morley; District Attorney, Edward Herrick, Jr.; Auditor, G. S. Lowman; Surveyor, Z. T. Walker.

Samuel Cox having been taken suddenly ill has been compelled to relinquish his appointments to address the Democracy of this State. It is a difficult matter to fight Democratic whisky in Philadelphia with success. Perhaps he is satisfied Pennsylvania is all right for the Republican ticket, as he was with Maine, and considered his efforts would be useless.

A large majority of the government bonds held in Berks county are owned by Democrats, or are the investment of widows and orphans. Brick Pomeroy addressed the Democracy of Reading on Friday evening, and called the bondholders "thieves, Shylocks and bloated aristocrats," much to the indignation of his hearers. The Berks county Republicans are raising a purse to have Brick visit them again.

Our New Haven, Fayette county correspondent "Boston," writes that there was a large Republican meeting in that borough on Friday evening, which was ably addressed by J. W. K. Minor, of Uniontown, and Hon. John Covode. The "Boys in Blue" were present with torches, and a glee club added to the interest of the occasion. "Boston" says: "Our party is alive and no stone will be left unturned. Look out for a good report from old Fayette."

STATE NEWS.

The Bellefonte National is the name given to the Central Press, recently purchased by Messrs. R. A. & E. H. Kinsloe, two practical printers and sound Republicans. The National is a large paper, having thirty-six columns, and is ably conducted. It deserves the cordial support of not only the Republicans of Center but of all the neighboring counties.

Clark Wilson, editor of the Butler Herald, has been appointed a whisky gauger of the Twenty-third District.

A fire occurred at Tidioute on Wednesday evening during the absence of the Republicans, who were attending a meeting at Warren. There were not enough Democrats to haul the engine to the scene of the conflagration, and it was left standing in the street. Ninety-seven barrels of refined oil, belonging to J. W. Coe, Esq., were consumed. No insurance.

The St. Paul's Church of Windsor township, near Hamburg, Berks county, will hold their centennial festival on Sunday the 27th instant. The church building has been handsomely remodeled, and it will be re-dedicated at the same time.

The Masonic fraternity of New Castle, on the 13th instant, attended the obsequies of Captain Ross, at Youngstown. Captain Ross was killed at Chickamauga five years since.

The Lawrence county Sabbath School Association will hold a Convention at Pulaski, on Tuesday, October 27th, to continue two days.

In Towanda, on last Monday, a young Irishman by the name of Dan Corbett, made a bet of the whisky with some companions, who, like himself, were well loaded with the article, that he dare jump from the top of the bridge crossing the Susquehanna into the river, a distance of perhaps forty feet. Proceeding to the bridge, he divested himself of his clothing and mounting to the roof, made the leap. Unable to hold himself erect, he struck upon his face and stomach, and sank in the water. The body had not been recovered at last accounts.

Preparations for a Grand Demonstration in New Texas--Flag Presentations.

A Little Unpleasantness in the Democratic Ranks.

Mass Meeting at Tarentum.

The loyal masses of Tarentum and vicinity met on Friday evening in an open lot in that borough and held a rousing meeting. The following officers were elected: President—Capt. Kipp; Vice Presidents—G. M. Morrison, J. J. Miller, Charles Fischer, John Marvin; Secretaries—Reporters of the Republican Press.

John S. Lambie and John M. Kirkpatrick, Esqs., were present, and both gentlemen delivered very able and effective speeches. Mr. Kirkpatrick held the audience in close attention for over an hour, and considerable merriment ensued. Mr. Lambie discussed the reconstruction acts in such a manner as to elicit the admiration of all present. There was a delegation of upwards of sixty Republicans from Natrona with torches, transparencies, and a brass band. Also, a delegation from Hite's Station with torches and a martial band. These delegations paraded around the town for a considerable time and finally adjourned to the speaker's stand. There were about six hundred persons present at the meeting, of which number about one hundred were ladies. There were also present a delegation from Harrison and other townships, and altogether the meeting was the most successful held in that section of the country since the campaign opened. Three cheers for Grant and Colfax and the State and county tickets were given before the meeting adjourned.

Mass Meeting in Chartiers Township.

The Republicans of Chartiers township held a mass meeting at the residence of Sidney F. Von Bonnhorst, near Ingram Station, Friday evening.

A large delegation with torches and a band of martial music came over from Temperanceville, and together with a large number of farmers from the township, constituted a large, enthusiastic, and attentive assemblage.

The speaking took place from the verandah of Mr. Von Bonnhorst's residence. The verandah was beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns and decorated with flags.

The Temperanceville Glee Club was present and entertained the audience with a number of patriotic songs.

The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock, and the following officers elected:

President—Jackson Duncan.

Vice Presidents—Robert Hodgson, Wm. Petrie, Joseph L. Duff, George H. Duncan, Abraham Westervelt, Felix C. Negley, William M. Grace, Colonel J. W. Ballentine, Captain John Hunter, Wm. F. Sutton, John Thornburg, Captain James L. Graham.

Secretaries—O. T. Bennett, Samuel H. French, Charles A. Von Bonnhorst.

Hon. Russell Errett was introduced as the first speaker. He spoke for about half an hour referring to the recent victory in Maine and discussing briefly the question of taxation. He concluded by urging the necessity of thorough organization, and said he would not detain them longer as Mr. Carnahan was present and would address them.

Hon. R. B. Carnahan was then introduced and spoke for nearly an hour. A report of his speech will be found elsewhere. The meeting then adjourned with cheers for the speaker and the ticket.

The thanks of the speakers and others are due to Mr. Von Bonnhorst and his amiable lady for the hospitable manner in which they entertained their visitors.

Meeting at Braddock.

A large, spirited and enthusiastic meeting was held at the public school house, in the borough of Braddock, on Saturday evening, which was presided over by Colonel E. J. Allen. Speeches were delivered by M. Ramshorn, Esq., General J. Bowman Sweitzer, and James I. Kuhn, Esq. The addresses were well received, and the Republicans of Braddock promise to give a good account in October.

The Twenty-First Ward.

All citizens of the Twenty-first ward, who wish to join in the torchlight procession on the night of the 23d and in the day procession of the 24th, will meet at the Wigwam, in said ward at six o'clock on the evening of the 23d and at eight o'clock on the morning of the 24th. Wagons will be provided for all who wish to join in the demonstration.

Republican Meeting in Baldwin Township.

The Republicans of Baldwin township held a mass meeting at Redman's saw mill, on the bank of the Monongahela river, on Friday evening. Samuel Groves, Esq., was chosen to preside, and John Sinker was elected Vice President. Robert Wilson was appointed Secretary. Major A. M. Brown and W. C. Moreland, Esq., were present and delivered eloquent and able addresses. A huge pole one hundred and sixty feet high was raised at the saw mill last week, and this demonstration was gotten up to celebrate the occasion of the pole raising. The Birmingham Glee Club were also present, and the proceedings of the meeting were enlivened and interspersed with some excellent singing. A vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers, after which three cheers were given for Grant, Colfax, and the Republican nominees, and the meeting adjourned.

The Mass Convention—Butchers Take Notice.

The butchers of Allegheny county held a meeting and appointed John Earl Chief Marshal. Hugh Richardson, William Hosack, Fred. Pellstein, George Evans, Henry Musler, James Sanderson, and Henry Metz were appointed Assistant Marshals. The butchers, mounted, will assemble at the Allegheny Diamond, at nine o'clock Thursday morning—the uniform to consist of a white shirt, blue scarf, red sash and high hat. It is earnestly requested that every loyal butcher will be in line at the time and place designated.

Grand Republican Mass Meeting at New Texas.

The Republicans of New Texas, Plum township, will hold a grand mass convention, at that place, on Tuesday (to-morrow), commencing at ten o'clock.

The Republicans of Plum township extend a cordial invitation to their brethren of the city of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county to meet them on this occasion. The farmers have made ample arrangements for entertaining all who may visit them on this occasion.

Gen. J. Bowman Sweitzer, of the Sixty-second Regiment, will be present and address the meeting. The members of the gallant old Sixty-second are expected to rally once more around their old leader, in defense of the principles which they fought to maintain.

The Hon. John P. Penney, Thomas Ewing, Esq., and other distinguished speakers, will also deliver addresses.

The Seventh and Eighth Ward Glee Club, and a Brass Band, will accompany the delegation from this city.

A train will leave the Allegheny Valley Railroad depot at eight o'clock Tuesday morning, and return at six o'clock in the evening. There will be wagons at the depot on the arrival of the trains to convey the excursionists to the village.

The "Harmonious" Democracy.

There was a gathering of the "Young Democrats" of the city, at the St. Charles Hotel, a few evenings since, for the purpose of devising some more effective means of keeping their courage up. Whether or not the Maine election prompted the meeting, we cannot say; but it was held, and presided over by a young Johnson Democrat, and a member of the legal profession. We are not advised as to the various matters which came up for discussion, but we know that there were present representatives from two opposing and very bitter factions, and that the meeting adjourned without accomplishing anything. While the row was at its height, a well known leather dealer appeared as a pacificator, and attempted to pour oil upon the troubled waters. The Chairman gave the peacemaker a severe backset by informing him that he was an "old stager," and as such had no right to participate in this assemblage of "young men." This ended the attempt to heal the breach which had been made, and the juveniles "fought it ought." It is a pity to see this "trouble in the camp," just at a time when our Democratic brethren should be "dwelling together in unity." We commend to them the motto with which they have become so familiar of late but which they do not seem to appreciate: "Let us have peace."

Pole Raising in Indiana Township.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of Indiana township was held on Saturday afternoon at Beatty's School House, Hoboken. A handsome and substantial pole, one hundred and twenty feet in height, was raised, and an elegant flag ran up amid the cheers of the multitude. The Etna Brass Band was in attendance and discoursed patriotic music. The meeting was organized by the election of the following officers:

President—Wm. Henderson.

Vice Presidents—Jacob Hetzel, Archibald Pillow, and Sames Carroll.

Secretaries—John Beatty and Albert Saint.

Able addresses were then delivered by L. P. Stone, Esq., O. S. Ferguson, Esq., Capt. Hugh S. Fleming, and Mr. John Megraw, after which the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant, Colfax and the whole ticket.

Thirteenth Ward To-Night.

This evening a grand rally of the Republicans of the Thirteenth ward will be held at the Minersville School House, on which occasion a handsome flag will be presented to the Grant and Colfax club of the Ward by Robert Arthurs, Esq., and a salute of guns fired. The Tanners' club and the Grant and Colfax clubs of the Fourth, Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Fourteenth Wards, with uniforms and torches, will form in procession and march to the meeting, where able speakers will be in attendance to address the audience.

Soldiers' National Convention.

Soldiers attending the National Soldiers' Convention at Philadelphia, will be transported on the Pennsylvania Railroad, from any point on the road, to Philadelphia, at the rate of two cents per mile, and returned free of charge. This will make the fare from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia and return, a little over seven dollars. Tickets will be issued on September 29th, 30th, and October 1st, and will be good to return on October 3d, 4th and 5th. The wives and families of soldiers will be carried at the same rate.

Wide Awakes in the Third Ward, Allegheny.

A number of the young and active Republicans of the Third ward, Allegheny, met at Gerst's Hall, on Saturday evening, for the purpose of organizing a campaign marching club. Col. D. L. Smith was called to the chair, and J. R. Oxley acted as Secretary. About one hundred voters joined the company, after which a permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers: Captain—D. L. Smith; Lieutenants—First, Casper Gang; Second, John Horn; Third, William Wettach. The club, on motion, was called the "Third Ward, Allegheny Wide Awakes." The uniforms, consisting of silver colored capes and caps, were ordered, and will be ready for distribution this evening at Gerst's Hall. Committees on transparencies, flag and music were appointed, and the Club adjourned.

Republican Rally in Nineteenth Ward.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of the Nineteenth ward was held on Saturday evening at the corner of Fifth and Wilkins avenues, Shady Side, where a handsome pole was erected. David Aiken, Esq., called the meeting to order, and nominated the following officers:

President—Joseph Dilworth.

Vice Presidents—D. M. C. Bidwell, Wm. M. Taber, James B. Murray, George Dilworth, Gilbert Turner and J. G. Krebs.

Secretaries—W. R. Brown, and Hartley Howard.

John Dalzelle, Esq., was introduced and spoke for about an hour, discussing the record of the Democratic party. While he was speaking the meeting was increased by the arrival of a large delegation of the Grant and Colfax Club's of the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first wards.

W. B. Negley, Esq., followed in argument on the financial question, after which the East Liberty Glee Club sang a campaign song in an excellent manner, after which the meeting adjourned.

Flag Presentation.

The Fourth ward Grant and Colfax Club was presented by Col. Wm. A. Herron with a beautiful silk flag Saturday evening.

The presentation took place at the residence of Col. Herron, on Penn street. The Fourth and Eleventh wards Grant and Colfax Clubs with bands of music and lighted torches were present.

The presentation was made by Josiah Cohen, Esq., who made a brief and eloquent address.

The flag was received on behalf of the Club by C. W. Robb, Esq., who made an appropriate speech.

There was a large crowd of spectators present, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Republican Meeting in the First Ward.

A meeting of the Republicans of the First ward, Pittsburgh, was held on Saturday evening, at the headquarters of the Grant and Colfax Club, on Market street, near Second. The meeting, which was quite a large and enthusiastic one, was organized by calling James Rees, Esq., to the chair, and appointing a number of Vice-Presidents and Secretaries. W. C. Moreland, Esq., was introduced and made a short but telling speech. He was followed by Wm. Little and Josiah Cohen, Esqs., and at a late hour the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the whole ticket.

Pole Raising and Rally at Sewickley.

A grand rally of the Republicans of Sewickley township was held at the Valley postoffice on Saturday afternoon. The meeting was a large and enthusiastic one, and was presided over by T. H. Nevin, Esq. A pole, one hundred and twenty feet high, was raised, and a handsome flag unfurled to the breeze. Speeches on the issues of the hour were made by J. J. Siebeneck and A. M. Watson, Esqs. The speakers were listened to attentively, and the meeting adjourned amid much enthusiasm.

Council Nomination in the Eleventh Ward.

A tie vote having occurred between Dr. J. G. McCandless and W. C. McCarthy, for the Republican nomination for Common Council in the Eleventh ward, (old Seventh,) another election was held on Saturday, which resulted in the nomination of Dr. McCandless, he having received one hundred and seventy-one votes against one hundred and thirty-seven cast for Mr. McCarthy.

The Philadelphia Soldiers' Convention.

A meeting of the soldiers and sailors of this vicinity was held at City Hall, on Saturday afternoon, to take action in reference to attending the National Convention of soldiers and sailors at Philadelphia in the early part of next month. It was decided to attend the Convention, and a book was opened for the names of all those desiring to go to the Convention. The meeting then adjourned until to-morrow evening.

Flag Presentation.

The ladies of the Second ward will present the Second Ward Grant and Colfax Club with a magnificent silk flag, this evening, at eight o'clock, at Wilkins Hall. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Omissions.

In the publication of the General Order of the Chief Marshal, for the procession on Thursday next, the Eleventh ward was omitted from the third paragraph. It is assigned to Colonel E. J. Allison's command, and will form on Second avenue, above Grant, and on Grant and Water streets, the right resting on the corner of Cherry alley and Water street.

The names of J. R. Oxley and General Chas. Barnes were omitted from the Committee of Arrangement of the Soldiers and Sailors for the 24th September Convention. Both have rendered valuable service.

Financial Success of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Over eight hundred miles of the Union Pacific Railroad have been completed, almost three hundred having been built since this year's work was begun in April last. Such rapidity of construction, unparalleled in the history of railroading, has not been attained at the expense of safety or permanence, as is testified by the Government Commissioners appointed to examine and report upon the road, and by a large number of disinterested parties who have traveled upon it during the last summer, and bear testimony both as to its stability and present able and skillful management. The amount of the transportation business for the last year has been larger than the most sanguine of its friends had hoped. The report of the Treasurer shows that the earnings for the year ending June 30th, were more than four million dollars, while the average length of the road in operation was but 472 miles, its net profits being largely in excess of the interest upon its first mortgage bonds, which have been sold to the amount of over eight millions. The future business of the road will be greatly facilitated by the building of the great iron bridge across the Missouri at Omaha, the contract for which has been entered into and the work upon it begun. The bridge will cost two and a half million dollars.

An interesting statement has been recently made from official quarters at Washington, showing that the saving to the Government in the year 1867, by transportation of Government freight upon the railroad, over what the same service would have cost by wagons, was nearly two million dollars. If so large a national profit can be made on the unfinished road, we may certainly conclude the Government aid to the road to have been a wise national economy.

The Defeat in Maine.

From Brick Pomeroy's Democrat.

The State election in Maine has been held—the smoke has lifted—the Republicans have over twenty thousand majority. We are defeated there, and do not like it. We met the enemy in Maine and are theirs. They whipped us there worse than we supposed they would or could, and it hurts. Duty to our readers—a desire to speak truth makes us admit a defeat there—a stronger Republican vote than we looked for.

Hon. Lewis Barker, of Maine, is announced by the State Central Committee to speak in Pittsburgh, on Saturday evening next.

A private letter from Des Moines, Iowa, informs us that the cause is working gloriously in that State, and that our friends look with confidence for a majority for Grant and Colfax of fifty thousand.

The mass meeting at Kittanning, appointed for Saturday, 26th inst., has been postponed to October 8th. A meeting will be held at Elderton, Armstrong county, on Monday, September 28th, which will be addressed by Governor [illegible] and [illegible].

Senator [illegible] has not been renominated in the Eleventh District, the conferees having chosen Hon. F. M. [illegible], of Wyoming. Mr. [illegible] has served several terms in the lower House, at Harrisburg, and will therefore bring experience to the discharge of the duties of Senator.

The Democrats invited Secretary McCulloch to attend a Seymour and Blair meeting in Washington, a few evenings since. He sent word he was sick and could not attend. A good many Democrats have been taken suddenly sick since the Maine election. They are not likely to get well again very soon.

The Herald and the World have articles on the October election in Pennsylvania, both reaching the conclusion that the result will have a decisive effect on the Presidential canvass. The World's information concerning the prospect only authorizes it to say the prospect is encouraging. The absence of anything like confidence is noticeable. On the contrary, the Herald entertains not the slightest doubt. It concludes its article as follows:

> [illegible]

Cary, of "the horny hand," has come and gone. He had a brief and fruitless campaign. Not a single vote was raised by his tremendous efforts in the Democratic Labor Reform harness. The importation was a losing business, and is not likely to be repeated. The so-called Labor Reform movement here is so manifestly in the interest of Seymour and Blair, that nobody is deceived when [illegible]. At Wheeling, on his way to Pittsburgh, Cary, along with [illegible] and Judge [illegible], of Ohio, addressed a Seymour meeting. But the workingmen of Pittsburgh [illegible].

Even "[illegible]" of the [illegible], whose conversion really dates back to the fall of 1867, Samuel F. Cary, in his speech delivered in this city the other night, said "money was only the representative of value, that whatever the Government stamped as money is as much money as gold or silver." According to this definition, Government must be endowed with extraordinary creative power. [illegible] In fact, he utter contempt for both history and political economy is sublime. [illegible] that an eminent political economist referred to once:

PUSHING "TAXATION."

In pushing "equal taxation" upon the public mind, the Democrats are simply playing the game the party has adopted heretofore in every prominent canvass. Unfortunately for their cause, however, they are less adroit than usual in their attempt to deceive the people. Had the Tammany platform been framed without the direct or open assistance of Wade Hampton, and the eighty-nine rebels who supported his demands, and who ruled the Convention, it is possible that some portion of the public might have been duped by the plausible proposition. Instead of granting aid and comfort to Hoffman, Tammany, [illegible] & Co., in a quiet manner, the Northern Democrats deemed it incumbent upon them to relinquish the entire management of the nominations, as well as the construction of the platform, to the rebels. The latter, not to be outdone in politeness, "only asked permission to insert three words" in the original draft of the platform. The remainder of the platform, which was constructed with an express eye to their interests, having already been approved by them, the [illegible] between the Northern and Southern [illegible] was complete.

Whoever will look over the proceedings of the Tammany Convention cannot fail to observe that, while the Eastern and Western portions were at daggers points, [illegible] failed to express their cordiality and utmost approval of the objects aimed at by the Southern wing. Under such encouragement was it any wonder that the leaders of the South grew jubilant at the thought of regaining their former power over the Government? Was it not natural that they should return home proclaiming new schemes of glory, in which the South always occupied the foreground? Now, however, we are informed by the Northern Democrats, who affect to be angered by the speeches of Southern leaders, which they term "inflammatory," but which bound men term "revolutionary," that they do not indorse these violent utterances. Who, we ask, is to blame then? Who encouraged the excited chiefs to attend the convention as delegates? Who, still more recently, took "its heart in its hand" on a self-appointed mission which took him and the party to whom he belongs [illegible]? Do the Northern Democrats who affect to deprecate the violent language employed by the so-called delegates to the Tammany Convention presume on our ignorance so far as to pretend that they were not encouraged, and that this plot, which now threatens to be a new Rebellion in the [illegible], was not concocted long before the Convention met? They may deny it, but all the evidence, all the facts, prove conclusively that the scheme of "equal taxation," like that which was invented to recolonize the Government, was planned deliberately by Northern Democrats at the dictation of the very men whose actions and speeches they now affect to deplore.

NOT THE GHOST OF A CHANCE!

Such were the words of a leading Pittsburgh Democrat only a few days since, referring to the prospect of Seymour and Blair being elected. It is the conviction of every intelligent man in the party. There are plenty of reasons why it must be so. Independent of the proof furnished by the Vermont and Maine elections, the numerous cases of defection in every neighborhood, furnish overwhelming testimony of the utter hopelessness of the Tammany ticket. The accessions to Grant from the ranks of the Democrats, include every grade and position, from the highest to the most humble. Among the most influential Democrats who will cast his vote and influence for Grant and Colfax, is J. Edgar Thomson, Esq., President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. We have heard of others holding similar positions, all of them Democrats of long standing, who, in view of the dangerous doctrines and purposes avowed by the Democratic party in the present contest, will act with Mr. Thomson in deciding to secure the election of Grant and Colfax, as a consummation considered necessary to insure the future stability and prosperity of our country. We might particularize almost to an indefinite extent. But it is unnecessary. The eyes and ears of every man of intelligence furnish indisputable proof on this point. Nor is this confined to this locality. The New York Times makes the following statement and comment:

> [illegible]

GOING TO PIECES.

Ex-Governor Seymour, up to the hour of his nomination, opposed the greenback policy. Ever since, however, his lips have been sealed on that subject. The friends of Pendleton and Hancock express the opinion that, in case he be elected, he will be led by Belmont and his bondholding friends. The standard bearer of the Democracy in New York, John T. Hoffman, has upon three occasions announced that "it was not his intention to discuss the bond question," because the period has not arrived for its discussion. The resolutions passed by the Convention which nominated him expressly declare that "this is a paramount question, and one which must be met now." John Quincy Adams, who has just been nominated by the Democracy of Massachusetts, in his letter of acceptance, says:

> [illegible]

Alluding to the action of the Tammany Convention on the reconstruction measures, he says: "I will not argue the unconstitutionality of reconstruction."

Here we have three candidates, two of whom openly dissent from and denounce the platform, while the third and most prominent deems it wisdom to conceal his real views. This state of things may be perfectly proper, and pleasant to contemplate in the Democratic party, but to our mind it indicates a general "independence" only equaled by the Democratic Labor Reform party of Allegheny county, whose "well defined principles" cannot even be "compromised" when "co-operating with" the Democratic party. Are we to understand that Messrs. Seymour, Hoffman and Adams are merely "cooperating" with the Democratic party? To read the letters of the one, and the speeches of the others, one cannot avoid the conclusion that the party is going to pieces.

The question for the philosophers and the ethnologists now are, are these the relics of some primeval man, and was this primeval man black?

THE REPUBLICAN POLICY.

REBEL RECONSTRUCTION.

The Democratic Plan for "Pushing the Taxes."

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

Speech of R. B. Carnahan, Esq., at Chartiers, September 18, 1868.

My friends and fellow-citizens: This campaign is one of the most important ever conducted in this country. Is there any difference of opinion about that? It is not the Republican party alone which says this campaign is important, but the Democratic party also. Both parties agree that as the election in November is determined, so will this Government be affected. It is agreed on all sides that the government, on its present foundations, is to be either strengthened or changed to some other basis of administration at least. Is there any difference of opinion about that?

WHAT ARE THE ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN?

Now, my fellow-citizens, I know of nothing more important in this campaign than to ascertain exactly what the issue is; what is the very point in issue in the contest? I never tried any cause in my life in which the whole matter in controversy did not in the end narrow down to one or perhaps two important facts. Investigations may run through weeks, but they come down in the end to one or two leading issues which constitute the whole subject matter of controversy. Now, what is the issue?

I do not admit there is any issue in this campaign about bonds or greenbacks; I will speak of them presently, but I speak of them under the protest that I consider there is no such issue in this campaign. It is a false, it is a pretended, it is a misleading issue, which our Democratic friends have introduced into the campaign for the purpose of withdrawing the minds of the people from the real issue. If they are not the issue, are the reconstruction measures the issue? Well, let us first inquire what they are. Why, those reconstruction measures are very few and simple. The first was the abolition of slavery in this country [illegible]; the second was what is called the 14th Constitutional amendment, and some acts of Congress in reference to it. Is the main issue upon these? I do not think it is. I think these issues are secondary and subordinate. I think they ought to be discussed, and I would discuss them only because our friends desire their discussion, and would answer objections only because our friends desire it; but I do not believe they are the leading issue here.

THE MEASURES OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN AND PRESIDENT JOHNSON CONTRASTED.

The authority of the venerated name of Abraham Lincoln has been constantly invoked by our political foes to cover and support the policy and scheme of reconstruction adopted and pursued by President Johnson. Democrats are constantly charging that the present Chief Magistrate has closely followed the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor, whose name and memory they now affect to hold in reverence. For what was that name an authority with these people four years ago? Even a patient public, indulgent to change of opinion, forget that the same men who now speak of Mr. Lincoln as a man, as a patriot, and as a statesman, with affection, reverence and respect, four years ago heaped upon his head every epithet of contumely, reproach and accusation which could be drawn from the language we speak. He was called here in the North "usurper," "despot," "bloody tyrant." He was charged with having violated the Constitution in about twenty-five important provisions. The New York platform gives a catalogue of alleged crimes; nullification of trial by jury, overthrow of freedom of speech and the press, arbitrary seizures and arrests, military trials and star-chamber inquisitions, invasion of postoffices and telegraph offices and seizure of private papers and letters, conversion of the American Capitol into a bastile, spies, informers, &c., &c. All these were charged upon Abraham Lincoln. His personal appearance, dress, manners, education and understanding were made the subjects of coarse jests and vilest invective. How great a change! Now some of them say he was a good man, a patriot and a statesman. I have heard some even admit that he was a great man, and that his death was a national bereavement. I see they now invoke the authority of this great and venerated name to cover and support the President's reconstruction policy. Mr. Johnson constantly repeats that he was not the author of his own policy, but it came to him by succession, that he was simply Mr. Lincoln's executor, and that the public cannot condemn him on this subject without also declaring a condemnation of Mr. Lincoln. Now mark how plain a tale will put that pretension down. When Mr. Lincoln was President a great and terrible war was being waged. There was organized rebellion in eleven States. Those States formed a Confederacy, elected a President, established a war department, a state department, a postoffice department and all of the political machinery [illegible]

[illegible]

But when Mr. Johnson came into power the war was ended. The Confederacy had fallen to pieces. The rebels were conquered and submissive. [illegible]

But, my fellow citizens, the issue rises higher than any measure or any policy of reconstruction. Have we had a war or not? Is a great fact like this to be ignored? Was the Southern Confederacy a myth, some horrible dream, or did we have a rebellion? It is a historical fact, a bloody fact, and now the question, I think, is are we to have the rebellion and war over again. Now, that is a pretty strong declaration. Some people may say "you are easily frightened, there is no danger of war." My fellow citizens, I think there is, and why? How are parties here divided? We have the Democratic party and the Republican party. Now, where are those rebels? Where are those men who fought us? I tell you to-night they constitute one-third of the entire Democratic party; aye, more than that, nearly one-half of the Democratic party of the United States are the rebels who lately fought us in the field. Here is one fact to be considered. What are the intentions of those people? We can gather them only from their declarations. What do they say about it—about the purposes of that section of the Democratic party? They talk about regaining the lost cause. They say if they elect Seymour and Blair they will gain everything they lost in the field. Admiral Semmes, called in the South an "Admiral," in the North a "pirate," says he fought for the rebel cause as a Democrat, and he votes for Seymour as a Democrat. Are the purposes of those men unchanged? Are they rebels still, or are they reconciled and willing to submit to the Constitution? The burden certainly is upon the Democratic party to show their repentance. Here is the fact that more than one-third, nearly one-half of the Democratic party is composed of these rebels. That is the Democratic party of the South and what is the Democratic party of the North? Now when I speak of the Democratic party, I wish every man here to understand that I am not one who believes that because a man votes the Democratic ticket he is necessarily a traitor. I believe the masses of the Democratic party are honest; I think they mean right, and I would be the last one to say to any person because he is perhaps voting and enforcing doctrines which have come down to him, as he thinks, clad in the traditions of the past, supported and sustained in his opinion by the utterances and authority of great men, I would be sorry to say that such a man is a traitor to his country. My fellow citizens, there are tens of thousands of Democrats of this day who vote the Democratic ticket because Andrew Jackson was a Democrat. Take any man over fifty years of age; can you change him? It is the hardest thing in the world to change the opinions entertained for thirty or forty years. It is the young men who change their opinions. The great thing to be gained in a campaign is to reach the minds of the young men whose opinions are just being formed. There are men who are Democrats because Andrew Jackson was a Democrat, but my fellow-citizens, Andrew Jackson was what we call a Union man. He put down nullification and secession, and what is that but rebellion? It is very nearly what we will have upon us if the Democratic ticket should be elected. According to the doctrines of secession a State can nullify the laws of the United States, but if Seymour and Blair should be elected, the President of the United States is to nullify the acts of Congress. Frank Blair says those laws are to be trodden under foot—of course, including the fourteenth amendment. What is nullification? It is making null and void by force. It is denying the force of law to the statute or constitution that is supposed to have the force of law. Is that anything but rebellion or revolution? I say some men are Democrats because their opinions have come down to them from a past age—because they have inherited their political opinions just as they inherited their religious faith. I think it is folly to accuse a man like that of want of patriotism. It is a sad and lamentable fact that it is so. I think they advocate opinions which tend to the destruction of our government, but it is a very difficult thing to change the opinions of a man who is fifty or sixty years old.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY THE ENEMIES OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

Let us look at the Democratic party of the North, and I am not going far into their history; were there not in Allegheny county men who were opposed to the war? I know there were. Not so many as in other places in the State, but I know there were men who resisted the war measures. It became my duty to try some of them in the United States Court—not many from this county, but from other counties of the State. We had not only persons opposed to the war and all war measures, but we had men who were absolutely rebels. I remember one man up in the county of Westmoreland who was in the habit, if our armies sustained reverses, of indulging in triumph. He would talk as if he were a rebel. He would say "we whipped you at Fredericksburg, and at Bull Run. We will always whip you." There were many men of this kind throughout the State. There were men opposed to the war, and all the war measures and that is not the worst of it. There were leading men in the Democratic party all over the North—leaders in the Democratic party who denied that we could lawfully carry on the war at all. Am I stating a historical fact or not? Did not President Buchanan in his message to Congress declare he had no power to coerce a State; did not Mr. Seymour himself advocate the doctrine of the abstract rights of secession? These were the leaders of the Democratic party. They do not have the idea of this Government you have. They do not believe you have a government; they contend that there are a number of States confederated together for some purpose, but they do not admit that you have a government.

I have in my pocket a speech lately made by Hon. J. L. Dawson, of this State, personally a clever man, and a man of great ability. He said in that speech that what we call a government is simply a confederation of States. If that be really the nature of our government I think we committed a very great mistake in going to war about it. I do not think a government of that kind is worth one cent of money, or one drop of blood, and that we committed the saddest mistake, the greatest crime that was ever committed by a people in going to war in defense of it. We do not believe that doctrine, General Jackson did not believe that doctrine. We went to war and the people sustained that war. The Democratic party declared it a failure, but it was not a failure; it was a great and signal success, and now these men who said we had no government but a federation of States like that which they often have in Europe between independent kingdoms, such as the Congress of Vienna, where Russia, France, England, and the German States were represented; these men say that our Government is still a federation, that the Congress of the United States is a Congress of independent states, although they say secession is dead.

If that be true, if that is the nature of the Government—so called—we have in this country, in fact, no Government at all. I do not believe that doctrine, and the people of the United States do not believe that doctrine. What is meant by treason if we have that sort of a Constitution? It is said to be levying war against the United States or adhering to her enemies, giving them aid and comfort. That is a crime. Can there be treason unless there be some sovereign power, some national unity? We owe allegiance to a sovereign and that sovereign is the Government of the United States. If I go abroad do I not carry the character of a citizen of the United States with me? Most certainly. That is the sort of a government we have, and the simple question is whether an enemy or a friend of the government is to be chosen to be President the coming election. Did any man in the whole land ever deny that General Grant was a friend of the United States? Horatio Seymour advocated the abstract right of secession, and Horatio Seymour said that force successfully applied against the rebellion was equally objectionable with revolution or rebellion. One was just as bad as the other. The contest is just between these ideas, and Grant and Seymour are mere representatives of parties.

Look further at this Democratic party. What did they do during the war? What sort of a man was Vallandigham? Does anybody say he is a Union man? He was found to be a traitor and sent beyond our lines into the Southern Confederacy, and escaped from that section on a blockade runner and went to Canada, and while in Canada two hundred thousand men voted for him for Governor of Ohio. My fellow citizens, these men may be honest; [illegible] might have been honest, but are these men safe men to intrust the affairs of the Government to? Are they friends of the enemies of the Government? Look about you. Do you know a man who resisted the draft? Do you know a bounty jumper; do you know a man who went off to Canada to escape conscription, a man encouraging and harboring deserters? I say if you know such a man in this township, is he this day a Republican or a Democrat? There are no men of this kind in the Republican party that I know of. We found the Democratic party complaining in times past, and we find them complaining now in this campaign, of certain legislation of the State of Pennsylvania, which excludes those men who ran off to avoid the draft, from the elective franchise. They even went so far as to say we would have a rebellion in Pennsylvania if we did not allow them to vote. Are these men friends or enemies? That is the sole issue. The issue is shall a friend or enemy of this government be chosen. As I said before, the most important thing is to define that issue, and [illegible]

THE MAIN ISSUE AVOIDED BY THE DEMOCRACY.

But the Democratic party does not discuss this issue; they conceal it, they cover it up. Horatio Seymour says the [illegible]

[illegible]

We have reduced the army from a million of men to about fifty thousand, and the process of reduction was slow, gradual and expensive. The cost of transporting eight hundred thousand soldiers to their distant homes was of course very great. Out of the money raised by taxation we have paid pensions, we have paid bounties; we have, out of this money, purchased Alaska and paid seven millions for it; [illegible] million dollars were expended in and about the Freedman's Bureau operations. I think that the most beneficent expenditure ever made in this country. We have not expended the money upon the negroes alone. It went to relieve helpless suffering women and children in the rebel States. The Government some years ago sent its national vessels to Ireland to relieve the suffering Irish, and it is now reproached for sending the necessaries of life to helpless women and children of the South to keep them from starvation. The truth is that during these three years the Government has expended less than three hundred millions for the ordinary expenses of the Government. Buchanan expended in [illegible] millions in gold. We have expended less than one hundred millions a year since the war. Look at the difference between gold and paper. I submit to you that the Republican party has not for the ordinary expenses of the Government, expended anything like as large a sum as was expended by James Buchanan during his administration. This is the picture that was painted upon the country by the Democratic party, and that is being "pushed upon us now in this way by Governor Seymour and his friends.

TAXATION FOR NATIONAL PURPOSES.

We are told in reference to taxes, you are oppressed, you are loaded down with taxes." Allow me to inquire of you here in Chartiers about how many dollars of National tax you do pay. I happen to know about how much you pay. There are in this township about four hundred resident taxable inhabitants. There are non-resident one hundred and sixteen, making five hundred and sixteen persons in the township who pay taxes. Do you know what the property of the township is valued? On the county books it is set down at [illegible]. That is not the real value of it. I find since I came out here that land valued at twenty-five or twenty-eight dollars per acre is really worth five or six hundred dollars, so that the real value is over a million of dollars. Suppose we call it a million of dollars. There are five hundred and sixteen people liable to pay taxes on that. How much of the tax do they pay to the United States? There are just twenty-two who pay income taxes. No man pays an income tax unless his income exceeds one thousand dollars. There are only twenty-two men in this township who pay such a tax, and they pay only a little over one thousand dollars.

In this district where the real estate is worth at least one million of dollars, the United States gets one thousand dollars, and it gets it from persons who have an income of over a thousand dollars a year. There are some in this township who pay special taxes. If a man keeps a public house he pays a license, and physicians pay a certain license. How much do you think the government derives from these sources? Less than two hundred dollars. Is there a farmer in this township who pays a United States income tax? I venture to say not more than three or four. I know some of those who pay the income tax reside in the country and do business in the city. The truth is that the laboring man does not pay these taxes at all. One principal source of taxation is distilled spirits. Those who drink whisky, I admit, assist to pay this tax. Another principal item is the tax upon tobacco. Those who use tobacco contribute towards paying the tax. The next is the income tax, of which I have spoken, and then the special taxes. Who pays the special tax? The physician pays it, the lawyer pays it and the grocer pays it, if his sales exceed a certain sum—the hotel keeper—all who exercise a privileged calling or business, as distinguished from the farmer, mechanic and laborer, pay the special tax. It is generally ten dollars, but distillers and wholesale dealers in liquors pay fifty dollars.

Our Democratic fellow-citizens talk about "equal taxation." That is a fine sounding phrase. There is something very specious about it. What does it mean? Why it means that every species of property shall be taxed according to its value. Is that right? I say it is not right. I say it is not right that the sewing machine of the widow should be taxed in equal proportion with the business of a man who keeps a public house. His is a privileged business; he is selling liquor; another is dealing in tobacco; it is a privileged business. The law confers a favor on him by allowing him to carry on the business at all; and I say that species of property should be taxed, because it has been a just principle of this Government to tax luxuries. Is it right that the pick of the coal digger should be taxed; that the cabinetmaker should be taxed upon the tables he makes? I say it is not. Taxation ought to fall chiefly upon luxuries and wealth, and it does fall upon luxuries and wealth under the laws of the United States. There is not one man in a hundred, or five hundred, who pays any part of this tax at all.

I have already spoken longer than I intended. I repeat I would not speak upon this subject at all, except to satisfy the doubt of a friend. I say it is not in this campaign. The bonds are not in this campaign. None of them will be due within twelve years from this time. It will be time to meet that question when it comes. We are not liable to pay any portion of the national debt at this time, except that part of it, of which I will now speak.

THE ONLY PART OF THE PUBLIC DEBT NOW DUE.

There is one portion of the public debt which I think we ought to pay. I differ entirely from Mr. Pendleton and those who are talking about paying the bonds in greenbacks. There is one great wrong in this country, and that great wrong ought to be righted. If you have a greenback read it. The United States promise to pay you upon demand so many dollars. Does the United States do it? No, take it to the custom house, and you will not be paid. There is a wrong in that. The United States in reference to her bonds has not promised to redeem any of them before 1881, but she has four hundred millions of legal tender currency notes, and fractional currency notes which she promises to pay on demand, and they are not paid. This is a part of the public debt that ought to be paid. It is that circumstance and nothing else, in my opinion, that keeps the public credit down. It is said that our bonds in Europe are held at a lower figure than those of Brazil, and every day we see theirs quoted at ninety while ours are only seventy-five. Why is that? Simply because the United States has not paid her legal tender notes as she promised. She can redeem her paper and she ought to do it. I undertake to say as soon as the United States takes up these notes, and a greenback becomes what it purports to be, a payment of money on demand, there will be no difference between gold and greenbacks. Your greenback will be as good as gold the moment you can get gold for it. This portion of the public debt then ought to be paid. Is it for the interest of the country that greenbacks should be as good as gold; that your money should be what it purports to be? Certainly it is. There cannot be complete national prosperity, high wages and prosperous times until our currency is restored to a specie basis. We had a party in this country that used to talk about hard money. Where is this hard money party now? Why they propose to issue one thousand five hundred millions of greenbacks. What will become of them? They will go abroad throughout the land, stamped with irredeemability, like vagabonds and wanderers throughout the earth. It was from extreme urgency, it was dire public calamity, and public necessity that induced the Government to issue that kind of money at all. The legal tender bill was just as much a war measure as the conscription bill. Are we now to commit a great public wrong by postponing the redemption of these notes? I say we ought to redeem fifty millions of greenbacks this year, and fifty next, perhaps more. I do not propose to redeem them all at once so as to disturb the business interests of the country. But I do say we ought to redeem them in four, six or eight years, and we would then have one currency throughout the country. It is the want of this and this alone that now affects our national credit in Europe and elsewhere.

I must beg your pardon for having occupied your time so long. You have shown zeal in coming here. Some of you have come many miles. The same sort of zeal and energy will carry this campaign. We have heard from Vermont and Maine. We find the people are alive. There are indications about this campaign which I never witnessed in any other. Perhaps the only reason for the apparent want of enthusiasm in the early part of it was the simple fact that a majority of the people of this country had come to the conclusion two or three years ago, that General Grant would be the next President. General Grant was nominated three years before the Chicago Convention met. The Chicago Convention simply declared what the people had decreed two or three years before. It is because the war issues of this campaign are to be fought over again and settled, that the people are not to be deluded with the cry of greenbacks for bonds.

Instead of the cross-bones of the rebel Confederacy of 1861, we have simply the Ku-Klux Klan of the rebels of 1868. Do not be diverted from the real issue.

The Celebrated Walter Grape.

After twenty-five years experience with the present tender and late varieties we know the Walter, now first offered, will restore confidence in Grape raising. It never rots. Its abundant sugar raisins it in-doors or on the vine; it is a great grower and bearer, and now contains 146 clusters of bloom; is very compact in cluster at the East, which is an advantage in marketing. We have not known the foliage to mildew. It succeeds in dry and very wet soil. Is a seedling of the Delaware, crossed with the Diana, and better than either. Ripens before the Hartford, therefore, the earliest, hardiest and best variety. No. 1, one year, $5 each, in advance. Orders filled in rotation, while supply lasts. No charge for packing. This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium, being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a Life Insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or to its General Agents.

LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies, with suitable indorsement, should be addressed TO THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

There is now offered for sale on very liberal terms, and at a very low price, the property known as the New Brighton Retreat, an Asylum for Invalid Females, finely situated on the table land, in rear of the Railroad Depot at New Brighton, 28 miles west of Pittsburgh. The Grounds embrace five acres, well improved with Trees, and command very fine views of the surrounding country. The Building is a substantial Brick, four stories high, with 30 rooms, being well arranged for an Academy, for which it was originally built. There is a field open here for an institution of this kind. The attention of Teachers, Orphan Guardians and others is specially invited. The Building could be converted into one or two fine residences, and the Grounds disposed of to good advantage by the resident. The advanced age of Dr. Kendrick, Superintendent, is the reason for putting this Property into the market.
